INSTANT ONLINE TECH HELP

Skyjack Tech Help Chat Bot is available on techpub.skyjack.com and elevatelive.skyjack.com. It provides a first-step, self-help option to our customers. By providing a serial number, customers can access manuals, animations, machines specifications, and even some of our most common repair procedures.

If these options don't provide the information the customer is looking for, they have the ability to connect directly to a live Service Technician via the Chat. The Service Technician will work with the customer and provide information via the Chat until the customer is taken care of.

All transactions via the Chat are recorded within our Oracle Service Call System. This allows us to report on issues happening to our equipment in the field with our customers.

This online Chat feature reduces our overall call volumes and provides our customers with another way to get the best service in the industry.
